

New Website Announcement:

We launched our updated website this week and are very pleased with the outcome (www.lindmarine.com). Everyone on the senior team contributed to content development, while our sales support manager did the heavy lifting on managing the process internally. We think the new site does a terrific job of capturing the tremendous diversity and vertical integration of our business and presents a compelling story of our history and market strengths. Our web design partner, the Stellar Agency, has done many great sites, including the Port of Long Beach, and were great to work with. I hope you enjoy what you see!

All the Best,
The Lind Marine Team
